The Porto Rican Tariff Bill is a law, despite every obstacle that the Free-trade Democracy could throw in its way. Could they have compelled the enactment of a measure establishing immediate and absolute

Free-trade with Porto Rico they would have had opportunity to assert that the precedents thus established must be applied to the Philippines, to Hawaii, and to any other non-contiguous territory which might subsequently come into similar relations with the United States, and that by the act of the Republican party the cheap labor of the Orient and the tropics was thus to be brought into direct competition with the working-men and agriculturists of the United States. That was the political opportunity for which the Democrats were fighting, but they failed to accomplish it.

The bill as it stands proposes to temporarily collect on goods passing from Porto Rico into the United States and from the United States into Porto Rico 15% of the regular Dingley Tariff and to pay into the empty treasury of the island every dollar so collected, this plan to continue only until the Legislature of Porto Rico shall have provided local taxation sufficient to meet the necessities of the island and in no event to continue beyond March 1st, 1902, after which date there is to be absolute Free-trade between the island and the United States.

One of the objects of a Tariff upon Porto Rico's products imported here is to establish a right to impose such a Tariff in later years, should it be found necessary. This will be a precedent in our legislation for our new possessions, the Philippines. The proposed import duty—15% of the Dingley rates—is merely nominal, within 6% of Free-trade. Back of it is an established power and recognized authority to deal with these questions as shall seem wisest and best when we know more about the whole matter, and shall better understand the true situation with which we have to deal.

What Porto Rico is today we know; what it may become ten or twenty years from now, under the influence of American capital and enterprise, we can only conjecture. Cotton may be grown there, and cotton manufacturing might become a large industry. With cheap island labor, the product of our own Northern and Southern mills could then be undersold. Would it be right to expose the agricultural and industrial interests of these United States to such competition? If the principle of a Tariff be not now maintained, it might be difficult, if not impossible, to impose one hereafter, if it should thus become necessary. Then the Republican party would be blamed, and justly so, for its neglect to protect the interests of American citizens on the EYES BURNE CUT.

Paper Fired About a Drunken Boy and Set on Fire by a Lot of Young Men.

Williamstown, Ky., April 17.—A brutal crime perpetrated here last week has just come to light. Rube Jones, a boy of 12, son of a friend from childhood, has been abominably tortured to the use of spirituous liquors. While drunk, half a dozen or more young men about town sought to awaken him, that they might have some sports. Finding inebriated, taking his affrighted boy a long iron bar and piled it on fire, setting it on fire, he was burned in a horrible manner. One of his eyes is almost completely burned out, and there is no hope of saving the sight, while his nose is also badly burned in a number of places.

It cannot be learned who the parties were connected with the work, as the Negro was too stupefied to realize what was going on, and was utterly unable to identify the persons. In preparing, however, to bring suit against all parties connected with the crime if he is able to obtain a clew to the identity.

Eight or ten white men with drawn pistols followed him. He turned and fired twice. Ten shots were fired in the coach, several striking Boone and fatally wounding one.

Several others were driven through the window into his body. Many women fainted. Boone's body was brought here for burial Monday night.

Lord Roberts Will Make an Effort to Catch the Adventurous Boers.

THEY ARE FLEEING IN ALL DIRECTIONS

The Investment of Weepener Has Been Abandoned. By the Boers Who Are Making a Rapid Retreat.

Conflicting News to the London Papers, and the British War Office Expresses its Deep Satisfaction

London, April 17.—Lord Roberts has agreed to a favorable plan to catch the adventurous commandos that have been making mischief in the southeastern part of the state. The net has not yet been drawn in, but at the headquarters of Lord Roberts the prospect is evident that the power of the hours is decreasing. A Daily News correspondent has them fleeing to the southeast; a Standard correspondent reports them fleeing northward; a Daily Telegraph correspondent says they are going north and others south; while a morning Post representative says it is not known what the hours are doing.

Evidently the feeling at Bloemfontein is that the dispositions of Lord Roberts are such as to enable him to cover the country rapidly at any point. The hours, being aware of this, are presumed to be thinking now chiefly of retreat.

The investment of Weepener, according to a special dispatch from Bloemfontein, has been abandoned. According to a Bediyan dispatch the Boers are unable to retreat northward because the British strongly hold all roads.

Diverse reports come from Natal, one of which says the Boers have retreated beyond the Bergendal range and another saying that some of them are close to Ladysmith.

London waits confidently for almost immediate announcement for news favorable to the British. Discreetly, continuous advance toward Port Elizabeth, chiefly on account of the lack of horses, many of which die in the case of long voyages. Letters from the cape say that the three days' journey to Cape Town is very slow, and that the arrangements for feeding and watering are inadequate, and that the unfortunate animals break down rapidly in consequence of these hardships. Despite the energy of its buyers abroad, the war office foresees much difficulty in supplying the enormous number of horses required.

EXTREME HEAVY RAINFALL.

Southern States Visited by a Downpour Greater Than Experienced for Many Years.

Memphis, Penn., April 17.—Reports from Vicksburg, Jackson, Utica and other points in the South indicate that one of the severest rainfall periods experienced in recent years has visited the cotton delta, and there is no indication of a cessation of the precipitation. Rivers and creeks are over their banks, and in many instances crops in the low lands have been washed away. It is said much loss to planters and farmers will result. The railroads traversing the state are also heavily sufferers, many washouts having occurred and serious delay to both freight and passenger traffic is reported.

The Illinois Central tracks south of Jackson, Miss., have been washed away and passenger trains are being run over the Yazoo Valley road. The Yazoo Valley tracks below Vicksburg are also heavily damaged, and those south of that city are at a standstill.

Advice from Western Arkansas also indicates an extremely heavy rainfall.

The Last One Was Lynched.

Washington, April 17.—The post office at Lake City, S. C., has been re-established, and Mrs. Delia D. Carter (white) and her son, John D. Carter (black), who had been lynched, were among the first petitioners filed a motion all of the white and colored citizens, requesting re-establishment of this office and this boy's appointment. The colored people submitted a separate petition requesting her appointment.

SERGEANT ASSASSINATED.

First Blood Shed as the Outcome of the Strike at the Cornell Dam.

Croton Landing, N. Y., April 17.—The first blood shed as the outcome of the strike at the Cornell dam was the life-blood of Sergt. Robert Douglass, of the 11th Separate company, of Mount Vernon, who was shot dead by an unknown assassin about 10 minutes after 10 o'clock last night. The wildest excitement prevailed throughout the camp as soon as the news of the assassination spread to the different tents, and the soldiers are frantic over the crime, which the sergeant fell in known as Post No. 10, which was in charge of Corp. McDowell. It is situated on top of the hill near Little Italy, where armed strikers were seen drilling or marching about during the day brandishing rifles and shouting.

Douglas was talking to Corp. McDowell and other members of the guard when he suddenly clapped his hands to his stomach and said: "Boys, I'm shot." He died without any aid from the guard. It was pitch dark at the time, but McDowell and others fired a volley into a clump of bushes nearby without hitting any one. No one saw the flash or heard the report of the gun which killed the sergeant. Meanwhile the men picked up the fallen sergeant and carried him down the hill on a stretcher, but as soon as they reached Douglas' tent the poor fellow died without saying a word. Lieut. Glaser, with a squad of men, went up the hill top to see what the men had done, and after they made a thorough search but failed to find any person.

DUE TO OVERPRODUCTION.

Twelve Mills of the American Steel and Wire Co. Have Closed Down.

New York, April 17.—John W. Gates of the American Steel and Wire Co. was seen in reference to a dispatch from the west, which stated that a number of the constituent concerns in the main company had suspended operations. He confirmed the statement, adding that, however, the mills in the constituent companies have been shut down. They are located at Pittsburgh, Cleveland, Joliet, Ill., Waukegan, Ill., DeKalb, Ill., Newcastle, Ind., and Anderson, Ind.

Mr. Gates said that the cause of the closing down of the mills was overproduction.

Mr. Gates said he was unable to state when the mills would resume operations, as they first should have to ascertain the extent of overproduction. When asked as to the present situation and outlook, Mr. Gates stated that the shut down of the mills was the best evidence of the current situation.

Mr. Gates made another statement later, in which he said that the twelve mills which had been closed had a daily capacity of from $100,000 to $1,000,000. He said that slack business was an additional reason for the suspension of operations. The best information is that the mills will be closed indefinitely. It is said that as many as 4,000 men, boys and girls will be affected by the shut down.

MEANS WILL CASE DECIDED.

The Amount Advanced to His Son Will Be Considered Only as a Gift.

Washington, April 17.—The supreme court finally decided the contention of the wife of the late Thomas W. Means, of Atlanta, Ga., that $75,000,000, but before his death he advanced $130,000 to assist his son, Wm. Means, who was then president of a bank in Atlanta, which had failed.

Mr. Means had specifically provided in his will that advances made by his children during his life should be regarded as gifts and not to be accounted for by the recipients.

The court held that this provision favored the wife. Wm. W. White, Justice Harlan, Gray, Brown and White dissented from the opinion. The same decision was affirmed overruled by a divided court in this case. The original writ was delivered by Justice Brewer.

Negro Lynched by a Mob.

Tumico, Miss., April 17.—Missouri State University, an African school, was the scene of a lynching. The negroes and the colored students filed a motion all of the white and colored citizens, requesting re-establishment of this office and this boy's appointment.

The colored people submitted a separate petition requesting her appointment.
